

KOPERNIK GLOBAL ALL-CAP STRATEGY

Strategy Information

Kopernik's investment philosophy is centered on the belief that market inefficiencies present numerous opportunities to identify quality businesses that we believe are mispriced. The Firm utilizes bottom-up fundamental analysis to gain a thorough understanding of a company's business and valuation. The Global All-Cap strategy primarily invests in equity shares, and may also invest in equity-related derivatives including depositary shares, preferred shares, warrants, rights, and options, and may invest in fixed income securities (generally limited to 10% of assets).

Gross composite performance returns are inclusive of trading expenses. Net composite performance returns are inclusive of both trading expenses and investment management fees. Kopernik’s actual fees are described in Part 2A of its Form ADV (available upon request) and will vary depending on, among other things, the applicable investment vehicle and whether or not the portfolio has a performance fee. For example, if $100,000 were invested and experiences a 10% annual return compounded monthly for 10 years, its ending value, without giving effect to the deduction of advisory fees, would be $270,704 with annualized compounded return of 10.47%. If an advisory fee of 0.95% of the average market value of the account were deducted monthly for the 10-year period, the annualized compounded return would be 9.43% and the ending dollar value would be $246,355.

Please consider all risks carefully before investing. Portfolios managed according to the Global All-Cap investment strategies are subject to certain risks such as market, investment style, interest rate, deflation, and illiquidity risk. Investments in small and mid-capitalization companies also involve greater risk and portfolio price volatility than investments in larger capitalization stocks. Investing in non-U.S. markets, including emerging and frontier markets, involves certain additional risks, including potential currency fluctuations and controls, restrictions on foreign investments, less governmental supervision and regulation, less liquidity, less disclosure, and the potential for market volatility, expropriation, confiscatory taxation, and social, economic and political instability. Investments in energy and natural resources companies are especially affected by developments in the commodities markets, the supply of and demand for specific resources, raw materials, products and services, the price of oil and gas, exploration and production spending, government regulation, economic conditions, international political developments, energy conservation efforts and the success of exploration projects. There can be no assurances that any of the fund’s investment objectives will be achieved.
